Total-Body Biking!

The X-Bike is the only indoor cycle that features Trixter's patented X-Bar handlebar mechanism that allows the rider to functionally engage the upper body and core musculature, while the legs do the pedalling. This exercise offers enhanced total-body fitness benefits while bringing the natural movements of outdoors cycling indoors. The handlebar movement also promotes improved balance and co-ordination functions further enhancing the effectiveness of regular X-Bike rides.

The use of a freewheeling drive train allows the rider to 'coast' facilitating superior training flexibility and unrivalled safety while the 32-position GripShifter makes for effortless pedal resistance modulation. Riding X-Bike is as easy and natural as riding a bicycle outdoors and the fitness benefits are truly remarkable. It's total-body biking and it's far from stationary!

A stunning, commercial grade total-body studio cycle, suitable for a variety of uses including: Health club group cycling programs, personal training, cardio/strength circuit training and premium home fitness.
